TALK OF THE TOWN

Dr. O. E. Barr has been passing a few days in Keene, N. H. Joseph A. Gauthier and H. A. Cady are in Northfield for a short visit.

Mrs. C. E. Miles and daughter, who have been visiting relatives in Barre and East Barre for the past ten days, left this morning for their home in Rochester, N. H.

Among the guests at the City hotel this week are Erwin F. Jones of Windsor, a former resident, who is traveling through Vermont in an Oakland roadster, B. E. Belknap of Rochester, N. Y., and Fred Devoe, a well-known granite dealer from Wausau, Wis.

Rev. Fr. A. C. Griffin, pastor of St. Monica's church, yesterday announced that both masses that Prof. Timothy Drake of Boston would speak at St. Monica's church on Sunday evening, October 12, Columbus day, on "The Passion Play" and Oberammergau in the United States.

He has passed many years of his life in close touch with the peasantry that produce that play every ten years. Last night Prof. Drake lectured at St. Augustine's church in Montpelier.

One of the largest monumental bases ever shipped out of Barre left the Montpelier & Wells River freight yards this morning. The stone is 14 feet square and has a uniform thickness of two feet and ten inches. It is hammered Barre granite, and was finished by the George Stratton Co. On account of its immensity, it was shipped on end with heavy ropes arranged to keep it secure. The base is shipped to a Pennsylvania dealer, who intends to erect thereon a large monument, which is to be cut out of Barre granite. Freight men of the younger generation who helped load the gigantic stone say they never saw a base to equal it in size. A. M. Truitt, a well known local photographer, was employed to snap the stone just as it left the yards on its long journey to the Keystone state.

"An accident of minor importance took place about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon near the junction of North Main and Merchant streets, when an Indian motorcycle, owned by Ira Houston, was damaged by colliding with an automobile driven by Arthur Knight. Houston was coming down North Main street while Knight was turning onto the main thoroughfare from Merchant street. The cycle struck a glancing blow on the running board of the automobile. As a result, the headlight on the cycle was smashed and the front wheel of the same vehicle received such damages that it will not be in running order for some time.

More than sixty tickets were sold at the Central Vermont station late yesterday and to-day for the Boston excursion. CAUGHT AT WHITE RIVER.

Arsene Remillard Had Run Away from Manchester, N. H.

Manchester, N. H., Oct. 6.—Arsene Remillard, aged 14 years, of 282 Currier street, a runaway, was sent back to Manchester from White River Junction, Vt., yesterday morning. He told Police Chief Gauthier of the Junction a fairy story which the latter took with a grain of salt and the local police were notified.

It seems to be the season for run-aways. This is the fifth in less than a week with which the local police have had to contend. Remillard pretended he could speak English when taken in at White River.

Gauthier, after much questioning, elicited the information that Remillard had been accompanied by his father as far as White River, and that his parent had then deserted him. The story did not sound good to the chief, and he communicated with the Manchester police, who, in turn, consulted Alexander Remillard, the boy's father.

He told the police the boy had run away from home and he would gladly pay all the expense necessary to bring him back.

When Arsene arrived on an early morning train no fatted calf awaited him. Instead, he was taken to the station and locked up on the charge of being a stubborn child.

240 POUNDS OF HONEY.

Found By Lucky Hunters in North Duxbury Saturday.

Waterbury, Oct. 6.—On Saturday Homer and Howard Kennedy of North Duxbury, who had followed a swarm of bees, cut down the hollow tree in which the honey had been deposited, and making three trips to their homes, found by actual weight that they had 240 pounds of the sweet. Charles Kennedy over-discovered the bees and raced them over the S. C. Morse place to the ledge and the first part of the festival was given over to dining. Later there was a program of singing, to which several members of the company contributed.

Among those who gave vocal solos were William McHardy and Miss McHardy. Afterwards the time was given over entirely to dancing, music for which was furnished by Sanborn's orchestra. In more than one respect it was the most satisfactory observance of the festival in the history of the Glengue club.

In charge of the arrangements was the following committee: Alex. Cowie, Charles Leet, Mrs. Alex. Cowie, Mrs. William McHardy, J. P. Marr, the long-time president of the club, William McHardy and Mrs. Massie.

5,000 BANKERS
VISIT BOSTON

For 39th Annual Meeting of the American Bankers' Association

COUNTRY BANKERS
HOLD CONFERENCE

To Discuss the Currency Bill Now Before the Nation

Boston, Oct. 6.—The meeting of country bankers late this afternoon is the first important event in connection with the 39th annual convention of the American Bankers' association, which has brought 5,000 bankers from all parts of the country to Boston. The meeting is called to discuss the currency bill.

"Thus far," said Gordon Jones, president of the First National Bank of Littleton, "the Colorado bill has been considered mainly from the viewpoint of large banks. It is desirable to give the country bankers an opportunity to consider the features applying peculiarly to their business. By country banks I mean small banks of a quarter of a million capital or less, located in one, two or three bank towns. Such banks compose about 75 per cent of all the banks of the United States."

Five small boys and a lawyer came into city court this morning to figure in the case of State vs. Boys, who are charged with breach of the peace cases in connection with the alleged despoliation of a garden at the north end of the city several weeks ago and an alleged attack on George Stone. The young lads were arrested soon after the offenses are said to have occurred, but the cases against them were continued until to-day. Judge H. W. Scott was ready to hear the case, but counsel for the defense asked for a jury trial and a futile attempt was being made to secure an officer to draw the jury men, the case was continued until next Monday. R. A. Hoar represents the respondents, who were arrested on complaints made to Grand Juror A. G. Fay, who will conduct the prosecution.

The case against Aurelio Villa, who was arrested last week in connection with the seizure of alleged contraband goods on the Graniteville road, was held open. Villa is retained by R. A. Hoar and State's Attorney T. Ward Carver represents the state. Villa is out on bail.

EXPECT TURLEY DECISION.

When Vermont Supreme Court Assembles To-morrow.

Interest in the case of State vs. John Turley, formerly of Westbury, was revived to-day with the announcement that to-morrow morning the supreme court would give its opinion on the exceptions taken by counsel for Turley during his trial for the alleged murder of John McAuley of the Graniteville, Me. McAuley died on the night of July 12, 1911, near the Wells-Lamson quarry in Westbury. Owing to the peculiarly revolting circumstances attending the man's death, the case attracted widespread attention when John Turley was tried for murder in the following fall, after a special session of the grand jury had indicted him.

In Washington county court, Turley was found guilty of murder in the second degree and received a long-term sentence. He was taken to Windsor, only to be removed later to the state hospital in Waterbury for observation. His attempted escape and capture formed only a single chapter in the story of a man whom the state claimed to be responsible for one of the most atrocious murders in the annals of Washington county criminal history. Turley is now confined to the state hospital, it is said.

One Alphonse Primavera was arraigned for murder in county court, complicity being charged by the state. The case against him was afterwards not pressed.

Meanwhile, Turley's counsel, R. A. Hoar of Barre and John Senter of Montpelier took several exceptions during the trial of their client. The exceptions were argued before the supreme court in the fall of 1912. The court has been reviewing the case and the decision will be handed down to-morrow.

State's Attorney J. Ward Carver represented the state, and he was assisted by ex-Attorney General John G. Sargent of Ludlow.

RAN AWAY FROM MONTEPIER.

Three Boys Are Being Held at Northampton, Mass.

Three runaway boys from Montpelier, George McLeet, aged 15, William Osgood and a Sweeney boy, were arrested to-day on their journey to Northampton, Mass., last evening and held for Montpelier authorities. Chief of Police Durkee left this morning to bring them back.

The policeman, who called the Montpelier station by telephone about 9 o'clock last night, said a sum of money was found on one of the boys, who, upon being questioned, stated a Tomas boy of Montpelier gave it to him. When Mr. Tomas was notified, he questioned his boy, who, it is alleged, confessed to taking a sum of money from a bureau drawer and giving it to Osgood and McLeet to buy revolvers with.

The three boys left Montpelier Saturday night, going as far as Northfield on an auto truck and by rail the rest of the way. The Osgood boy is already on probation as a result of shooting turkeys last fall and the McLeet boy is also said to have a police record.

SMACKED OF OLD TIMES.

Banquet of Glengue Club Held Saturday Evening.

There was a fine old-time flavor to the annual harvest festival of the Glengue club, which was held in the Worthen block last Saturday evening. "Meal-anale" lost none of its charms for the 100 or more Glengueans, who, with their wives and invited guests, gathered at the hall in the early evening. Festivities attended by "Meal-anale" observations had their origin back on the banks of the Ugie in Scotland, and the Barre members whose club organization is linked with memories of the old days, successfully sought to preserve as much of the tradition of the occasion as possible. The festival is designed primarily to celebrate the end of the harvest and the return of the harvesters.

The dish of "Meal-anale" was the centerpiece for many other tempting dishes and the first part of the festival was given over to dining. Later there was a program of singing, to which several members of the company contributed.

Among those who gave vocal solos were William McHardy and Miss McHardy. Afterwards the time was given over entirely to dancing, music for which was furnished by Sanborn's orchestra. In more than one respect it was the most satisfactory observance of the festival in the history of the Glengue club.

TREATY RIGHT
NOT VIOLATED

In Case of Thaw's Deportation from Dominion of Canada

RULING WAS MADE BY STATE DEPARTMENT

Gov. Felker of New Hampshire Will Give New York More Time

Washington, D. C., Oct. 6.—None of Harry K. Thaw's treaty rights as an American citizen was violated when the Canadian immigration authorities forcibly deported him a few weeks ago. This was the ruling to-day of Solicitor Joseph W. Folk of the state department.

Concord, N. H., Oct. 6.—New York state authorities have asked Gov. Samuel D. Felker to postpone for a time his decision in the Thaw case, a proceeding which may require considerable time.

Governor Felker also said last night that he had received from Mr. Jerome a certificate copy of the indictment found against Thaw by the Dutchess county grand jury and subsequently withdrawn; also an affidavit by District Attorney Conger of Dutchess county that no indictment against Thaw now exists in that county.

Thaw spent Sunday quietly at his hotel where he received a visit from his sister Alice, formerly Countess of Yarmouth, now Mrs. Geoffrey G. Whitney. She came up from Newport, R. I. yesterday morning, accompanied by her husband and returned in the afternoon.

After her departure Thaw issued a statement of 1000 words in which he reviewed again rumors as to new legal proceedings in New York.

"As I am sane," said the statement, "it is not a fact that every person concerned in any effort to take me back to Matteawan is guilty of criminal conspiracy to imprison a sane man in a hospital for the insane."

PASTOR GIVEN FAREWELL.

Rec. George MacArthur Leaves Graniteville Presbyterian Church.

Parishioners of the Presbyterian church in Graniteville, as well as friends among the several churches in Barre Town, gathered in the Presbyterian church hall Saturday evening for a farewell reception to Rev. George MacArthur and family. Rev. W. J. M. Beattie, pastor of St. John the Baptist church, Westbury, acted as chairman, and in behalf of the company he presented the retiring pastor a purse, referring in the course of a happy little speech to the loss which the community would sustain in the pastor's departure. Rev. Mr. MacArthur responded in a fitting manner. Several members of the congregation contributed to an enjoyable musical program and refreshments were served before the affair came to close. FRANK B. WALLACE.
Passed Away Yesterday at His Home in South Barre.

Frank B. Wallace passed away at his home in South Barre Sunday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock, after a lingering illness of two years, during the larger part of which period he was bed-ridden. He was born in the town of Horse Heads, N. Y., July 3, 1877, the son of the late Charles Sidney Wallace and Isabel F. (Godfrey) Wallace. When five years of age he was stricken with scarlet fever, which left him a cripple for life. He attended a private school until he reached the age of 10, when he entered Spaulding school. After completing a course in the Bliss Business college, he was employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. until 1903.

February 21, 1901, he was married to Julia Edna Bugbee of Barre, by whom he is survived, with two sons, Haven Edmund and Kenneth Arthur, aged 9 and 2 years, respectively; a sister, Mrs. Charles Osmart of Sunny Side, Wash., a brother, S. Arthur Wallace, of West Sand Lake, N. Y., and his mother, who still resides at the city home in Barre, where his father died in 1912.

At an early age, Mr. Wallace united with the Congregational church of this city, where he was ever a devoted member, giving much of his time to Sunday school and Christian Endeavor work. At the time of his death he was a member of the home department of the Sunday school. Through all his long illness he was a patient sufferer. It is said of him that he never murmured or complained, but bore his cross with the fortitude of one who feels that a fond Father smites only with love, and the other is ever uplifted to bless.

The funeral will be held from "The Elm Tree Garden" home, his late residence in South Barre, Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Rev. J. W. Barnett, pastor of the Congregational church, officiating. Interment will be made in the family lot at Williamstown cemetery. Friends are requested not to bring flowers.

JOHN GIBB DIED SUDDENLY.

Although He Had Been Ill for a Year with Tuberculosis.

John Gibb died suddenly at his home in the Aldrich building Sunday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. He had been ill for the past year, although his condition had been on a natural recovery enough to confine him to the house until yesterday morning. During the day he complained of feeling unusually ill and late in the afternoon his condition began to grow worse. A physician was summoned, but the patient had expired. Death was due to tuberculosis. Besides his wife, Mr. Gibb leaves one son John Gibb, who is employed in Northfield, and his father, John Gibb, sr., who lives in Aberdeen, Scotland.

The deceased was one of the respected citizens of Barre, having come here 26 years ago, at a time when the granite industry was in its infancy. He was a stonemason by trade and until two years ago, when ill health compelled him to lay down the hammer, he had been employed in several different cutting plants. He was last employed at Smith Bros. shed on Burnham street.

For more than a year, Mr. Gibb had been engaged as janitor of the Aldrich public library and the Aldrich building.

He was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, February 21, 1865. While a young man he came to the United States and settled at once in this city. His marriage took place in Toronto, Ont., September 25, 1890. Mr. Gibb was a member of the Congregational union, the Masons and the Modern Woodmen of America. In his religious preference he was a Presbyterian and attended the First Presbyterian church.

Funeral services will be held at the house Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Duncan Salmon officiating. The interment will be made in Hope cemetery. The family requests that no floral offerings be made.

FORMER G. C. I. A. PRESIDENT.

Alex. I. Cruickshank Died at Baltimore Last Saturday.

Word was received in the city yesterday of the death of Alex. I. Cruickshank, a former president of the Barre branch of the Granite Cutters' International association, which occurred at Baltimore, Md., on Saturday, October 4. He died at the Johns Hopkins hospital, following an illness of two years. He is survived by his wife and a daughter, who are residing in Baltimore. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. John Anderson of Baltimore.

Alex. Cruickshank, during his residence in Barre, was prominently associated with labor circles. He was president of the Barre branch for two or three years. He was acting as president during the strike and lockout of 1907, when operations were suspended in the granite plants for several months before an agreement was reached between the cutters and the manufacturers.

Mr. Cruickshank was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, about 1870. He came to the United States in 1892, coming to Barre directly. He made his residence in Barre until 1908, when he removed to Petersburg, Va. While in Barre he followed his occupation as a granite cutter, being employed at the Jones Bros. plant for many years. On going to Petersburg he assumed the position of superintendent of a granite plant. When impaired health overtook him he removed to Baltimore, where he died. In Barre and elsewhere, Mr. Cruickshank was a highly respected man. He belonged to the Clan Gordon, O. S. C., in this city.
